1. Once upon a time

Once upon a time a King

Once upon a time a King who offered a grand prize to the artist who could paint the perfect Peace.

Many artists tried and presented their work at the King's Palace, the big day had arrived.

The King observed and admired all the paintings, but there were only two that he really liked, and had to choose between them.

The first was a very quiet lake. This lake was a perfect mirror where placid mountains that surrounded it were reflected. Above these was a very blue sky with wispy white clouds. Everyone who looked at this painting thought that this reflected the perfect Peace.

The second painting also had mountains, but these were rugged and bare. Above them was a furious sky from which fell an impetuous rain with lightning and thunder. Down the mountain seemed to rumble a sparkling torrent of water. All of this did not reveal anything Peaceful.

But when the King observed carefully, he viewed behind the waterfall a delicate bush growing in a crack of the rock. There was a nest in this bush. There, amid the roar of the violent waterfall, was sitting placidly a little bird in the middle of its nest...

Perfect Peace... the whole village wondered which picture would the King choose.

The wise King chose the second, and explained the people why...

"Because," explained the King, "Peace does not mean being in a place without noise, without problems, without hard work or pain. Peace means that despite being in the midst of these things, we remain calm within our heart. This is the true meaning of Peace."

And you... did you already found the true Peace of heart, in the middle of so many bustles?...

Once upon a time a Peace Warrior

Kai the Peace Warrior

Sea spring had arrived. Sea forests began to flourish. This was the most expected spring, since the beginning of times. All the fish, whales, jellyfish, seahorses, mussels, snails, dolphins, sea horses, squids, and sea turtles danced and swam from one side to another, making spirals in the water. There could be no greater joy. They had waited a cycle of time of 13 baktuns, for the fulfillment of purification of the Earth and the seas.

A starfish family was gathered around a reef, the smallest one looked around her and surprised shouted:

-What a beautiful spring mom! Look there are flowers that we've never seen before, what is going on?!

-Daughter! It's time to talk about something very important. Said the mother.

The Queen of the sea woods is the source of the beauty of the sea, she has existed since the beginning of time. She is the mother of all of us. She has been filling the planet with life throughout the ages. In silence, she has created a hidden Kingdom in the deepest and darkest waters of the sea, beside our father, the King of oceans.

- Yes mom! Exclaimed the little one. But why all make bubbles and swim so happy? What is going on? I also want to have fun!

When listening to this conversation, a few sea urchins approached, a jellyfish, and some little fish with scales of colors. Gradually approached White Foam, a little sea horse that was about to give birth, a little bit tired, responded: "what is all this fuss? Now, I'm a little fat! But... even I can dance. I got rhythm and I like tropical salsa!"

All laugh at the same time.

Mamma star, smiles. With a very soft and sweet voice she answers:

-It is important to pay attention!

Everyone approached her silently and slowly.

-The Queen and the King live in a Golden Palace, at the bottom of the sea, from where they take care of our empire and the Crystal Heart of the planet. A goldfish with scales of colors, approach with his brothers and asks:

-What is the Crystal Heart?

-Sebastian! My love! No one has seen yet the Crystal Heart, but very soon we will know it.

Spread the word that a very interesting conversation around the reef was happening! Suddenly approached the mussels, dolphins, whales, squids, and sea turtles.

Mamma star, waited all approached, to continue with the story.

PEACE 3000

-Our grandmothers! The celestial stars, appeared to us in dreams when we were still tiny stars and we were told that the Crystal Heart, is a giant Lotus Flower, of three thousand petals, which radiates a blue ultra violet light of Peace.

A turtle sighed and smiling said:

-Wow! How beautiful.

-It is our grandmothers, Mamma star continued, which remind us that in our hearts, lives the light of each petal of this flower.

-Mom! But why anyone hasn't seen it? She asked, pursing her brow.

-My little star! The warrior cannot see his destiny, until he is ready. Today marks the prophecy announced by the Sea Oracle at the beginning of time. The Queen, in a few hours, will bring to the sea world Kai, the Peace Warrior. Kai will pass the borders of the sea depth, where no one has never arrived, a place where lie the dark colors. When this happens, the hidden secrets of the sea will come to the surface, and humanity will know the existence and the power of the Sea Sun, the twin brother of the Galactic Sun.

At that time, the hearts of all children, and young people of humanity, will be connected with the Crystal Heart of the Great Mother Earth, and rooted to her love, will awake their power and all their potential. In that day, they will become Peace Warriors and will arrive from every place in the world, with their families, with their songs, with their ancestral knowledge and colors, to celebrate the great feast of this New Mankind.

That day there will be no more borders, no separations, no more wars, no hunger, no more pain, because everyone on the planet will have entered the true dimension of love.

Never forget that you are also a warrior, a Peace warrior.

When the nightfall, before sleep, feel the Crystal Heart, it will anchor you to the planet; and the lights of Peace, will glow in your heart. You will have the power of the four elements, to convert each place into a Sacred Place of Peace. You will live for Earth and the Earth will live for you, because the Earth is within you.

2. Peace in the world

Different looks of Peace

Historically, Peace has been something that has the great qualitative ability to express an ideal and a human illusion very desired and searched. For many, Peace is synonym of happiness, tranquility and serenity. However, as a concept is too vague, emotional and manipulative. At the same time it raises us an ideal, an illusion, and a feeling of a condition of life and desirable conviviality, and worthy of our effort and dedication.

As the deepest longing of human being, we can say that Peace is now a crucial and urgent issue. As such, we allow ourselves to carry out an approach to it, to understand its deeper meaning.

For that, let's enjoy the contributions of different characters who have dedicated much of their lives to analyze, investigate and generate knowledge, reflections and concepts of Peace, in order to understand its evolution and deep meaning, to allow us to generate the certainty that, even though it's an ideal, it's not a utopia.

Peace is an ideal, but it's not an utopia.

Peace in history

In historical terms, different ways of dealing with the concept of Peace were given.

Greek Peace or Eirene: Eirene (the one who brings Peace) is a synonym of Homonoia "harmony," a term that refers to a state of tranquility, mental and outer harmony seeking the absence of hostility, and violent and open conflict. For the Greeks, Peace corresponds to the unit and internal social order (i.e. within the people and own culture).

Pax Romana: It is based on the phrase "Si vis pacem, para bellum", which means "If you want Peace prepare for war". In this sense, the Pax Romana, refers to the absence of direct violence, wars or rebellions by a powerful military apparatus. The Pax Romana consists of all that exerts control, authority, legal relationship and imposition.

Ahimsa or Nonviolence: Johan Galtung often mention that Gandhi left us a great legacy to understand Peace at a deeper level, since he referred to Peace, as the Unity of life and the unity of the means and ends. This means assume that no life, and especially any human life, can be used as a mean to an end. For Gandhi, Peace is respect for the sacredness of all life and the acceptance of the precept "take care of the means and ends and they will take care of themselves" this is referred as "Ahimsa" or Nonviolence, which means not only do not harm others, but also exercise an act of compassion.

Neutral Peace: Contribution of Francisco Jimenez Bautista, of the University of Granada, Spain, which sets a different action framework characterized by the active involvement of the people in the task of reducing the (symbolic) cultural violence, which according to Johan Galtung is legitimized through silence and social apathy. Understanding neutral Peace, is to think of it as the ability of handling conflicts with empathy, nonviolence and creativity. Those who wish to be active agents of neutral Peace, will have as essential requirements to know out to dialogue, understand the culture of others, to have an attitude of tolerance and appreciate the differences as something positive and enriching.

Imperfect peace: Francisco Muñoz, of the University of Granada, Spain, proposes the adjective "imperfect" to Peace, not in a negative sense, but in a procedural sense, of constant construction, of seeking perfection, such as the human condition itself. In this way, peace is understood as something unfinished, but underpinned by recovery of the moments of peace, which although imperfect make us realize that in our interior lie all the elements that generate such peace. This is not the result of the absence of violence, but occurs by itself, it has its own life in a constant process unfinished, imperfect procedural, with the possibility of options that allows you to open up to the possibility of recognizing that the conflict is not necessarily a negative connotation, but as an opportunity to transform it in a constructive way.

This proposal puts us beyond the utopian dreams to understand peace, allows us to accept our human condition, at the same time that invites us to make us responsible for this condition to live (although imperfects) moments of peace with ourselves, with others and with nature.

3. Ten essential keys for living Peace

These keys, although not exhaustive, trace us a route of action to start the path that necessarily has to resort, the one who wants to be an active agent of peace.

1. See the positive side of things. Be optimistic. When working with others, optimize each situation. Remember: "we cannot guarantee perfect people anywhere... Don't regret for the shortcomings of others, since the flame of Peace makes up the difference".

I give from my heart and I see how surges of Peace flow from the heart of others ...

2. Identify if you have unfinished business or opened cycles in your life. We invite you to live in the present, and the best way to do so is closing these remaining issues, completing them in the most appropriate manner possible, so you can move to another level, to another place of your life, in a full attitude and without any debt. By the wayyyyyyy! ... includes closing economic debts and in a friendly manner with the "ex", for example ex-partner(s). ☺

I can close my pending issues with calm and love.

3. Forgive and ask for forgiveness. Forgive and ask forgiveness even when we think we have done nothing wrong. When we do this, we give the opportunity to others to do the same. Maybe you know someone who needs to be forgiven or needs to forgive. By bringing the subject up and be the first to express it, facilitates the other to apologize or be forgiven.

I practice the technique of Ho'oponopono, an ancient Hawaiian technique, which consists in saying (physically or remotely) to the person who offended you: "Forgive me, I'm sorry, I love you, thank you".

4. Remember to fulfill the commitment to stay in the determination of Love and Peace. Make a commitment to stay in peace, no matter what happens, even in trivial matters, because unimportant matters can light up world wars.

I am able to stay in Peace, whatever the situation.

5. Daily fulfill the purpose of invoking the light that lives inside you. Search daily for the solution of your issues. Examine the righteousness of your heart every day, so you can be sure that you didn't leave frayed edges in any relationship, that you didn't abruptly separate from someone without resolution, that you didn't leave any unsolved issues (as we have seen in section 2), such as a simple disagreement or discourtesy.

It's important to examine our hearts as we sometimes have the idea that what we do is perfect. We need to improve ourselves as well as anything else that needs improvement. We should not assume that everything we do is pure, because it may be that without realizing it, we have reacted to / charged of anger, envy, jealousy, etc.

I observe and improve myself continuously, with constant love to myself, others, and the beings of the universe.

6. Be humble. This is a wonderful state of being, be humble or having humility. When we say: "be humble", what it means is: "don't judge". When we judge others we are engaging with pride.

I am humble and do not judge, nor myself or others.

7. Abandon hardness. Abandon irregular shapes, harsh movements, the absence of grace, hardness and cruelty of mean words, since this will damage those who surround us and ourselves.

I do things with harmony and grace. My company is pleasant.

8. No gossip or criticize. Take some time each day to celebrate the stillness of your mind. Take a vow of silence of the senseless chatter. Do not engage in criticism or in the murmuring.

I express myself wisely and with respect. I speak only if my words are more wise than my silence.

9. Turn your body into a chalice for light, all cells and organs, and the spiritual, mental, emotional and physical bodies. Seek the divine harmony... of all atoms and cells... of all organs of our being, with ones and others. Find that balance...

I'm in a deep equilibrium. I am light.

10. Keep Peace with others. Do not react if someone gives you feedback criticizing. Do not be offended. If someone comes and lets you know you've committed a fault, and wants you to know it, they may be right or may be wrong; take it easy and consider it as an opportunity for growth.

We may learn the best lessons not only of ourselves but also of others. Weigh if what someone has told you is something that you should examine in yourself, and correct it. We all need to do this.

I learn from every situation and I'm grateful.

Remind and thank that person with all your heart.
Immediately invoke the law of forgiveness.
The pacifists motto is: "I shall not be moved".
I Am Peace, I Am Love"

Note about humility:

Look, do not confuse being humble with "false humility" and a "poor me" attitude. Being humble does not mean that one do not knows how to be assertive, be firm, to assert their rights, and observe when something is wrong, but always from the Nonviolent Communication and dialogue. Ok?

4. The triad of universal Peace

Picture: the triad of Universal Peace

The triad of peace consists in considering:

1. Peace with oneself. The first step to world Peace is to be at peace with myself. As his Holiness the Dalai Lama shares "The maintenance of Peace begins with the self satisfaction of each individual".

Picture: <http://lovingconsciousness.com/387/featured/loving-articles/self-love-saves-lives/>

2. Peace with others. With joy, good mood, understanding and smile, we can create an environment of PEACE, wherever we are. That requires being centered and own inner strength, which brings us back to the previous point. And that includes being firm and assertive when necessary, using the resources of the Nonviolent Communication (or Empathic Communication) and the ten essential keys mentioned above to live Peace.

Picture: <http://imagenesdesolidaridad.com/autor/tahia/page/5>

3. Peace with Nature. It means to consider all the elements of Nature as "Beings" to whom we owe respect and care: includes water, fauna, flora, soil, air, minerals...

Picture: <http://www.praga.embr.info/pazconlanaturaleza.htm>

5. The 8 levels of Peace

On a practical level, we can split up the triad, in 8 levels of Peace, that all can/must achieve:

- Individually (In the picture: odd numbers of the first square)
- And Collectively (In the picture: even numbers of the second square)

Picture: The 8 levels of Peace 3000

Establish a culture of lasting Peace, absolutely concerns all sectors of society and especially the entire school system, starting from an early age (from the pre-school stage, in the kindergartens and pre-kinder).

We also consider vital to attend with particular attention the following steps:

- the prenatal period and the conception "of Peace"
- the birth "in Peace"
- and care "in Peace" for babies
- The transition (or death) "with Peace".

When a child has acquired the Culture of Peace and the Nonviolent Communication before the age of 7, he/she has it for life. It is the best gift we can offer, because thus he/she has an happy childhood and adolescence; then facilitates his/her life couple and family; it allows him/her a good performance at work, and generally his/her life is more harmonious.

And so, gradually we achieve world Peace.

The 8 levels of Peace are practically:

1. Peace with oneself. Peace begins with oneself as we have seen before.
2. Peace at Schools. It consists of implementing a lasting Culture of Peace at all schools, and from an early age (See more in the next chapter).
3. Peace in family and lineage. We should make peace with our immediate and distant lineage, i.e. to honor our parents, grandparents and ancestors and be proud of them.
4. Local and national Peace. It resides in implementing Peace actions, from Peace, wherever we are and to promote local and national Peace by any possible means.
5. Peace with Nature. It's about implementing a deep ecology in every sense of the term. We are responsible for our Planet, its resources, pollution, and provide a good treatment to all kingdoms, animal, vegetable, mineral.
6. Peace in the world. Here we can co-create a public awareness that we want Peace in all its forms.
7. Peace "with Everything". Please see below this fascinating and essential theme for the harmonious development of human beings in general, thus giving a real jump into a higher octave of consciousness.
8. Peace with History and Religions. It consists in knowing the full story (not distorted) and facilitating the approach of the major religions of the world in the school environment. That would heal "the past" and open the mind and heart to the truth and tolerance, because we all have pieces of truths, knowing that the backdrop is Unconditional Love. And that we all aspire to a world where we will be brothers and sisters of truth again.

Peace with Everything

This concept is very ancient. It consists in being "aligned" with the laws of the universe and "in agreement" or "in tune" with what happens. I.e. embracing harmony at its deepest level, what was, is and will be, the secret of the great sages of ancient cultures and indigenous peoples.

Picture:

<http://www.fanpop.com/clubs/mevlana-celaleddin-i-rumi>

For example, Rumi (Mevlana), the great mystic Sufi says: "Being rotating in harmony with all things of nature... With the smaller cells... and with the stars of the firmament".

Picture: <http://unaantropologaenlaluna.blogspot.com/2012/06/chaman-el-senor-de-la-palabra.html>

Another example. The indigenous people of the Kowi and Arhuaco (Sierra Nevada, Colombia) state: "For us there is only one law, sacred, immutable, pre-existing, and essential and survivor to everyone and everything. Could the world exist or cease to exist, that wouldn't change a bit the essence of that Law, which is the only source of universal thought of the unmanifested of life. This Law of Origin finds expression in the Universe. A beautiful partnership between Law and thought, which, in compass with the environment, becomes in the Natural Law. This Natural Law originates the creation of matter and its evolution, balance, preservation and harmony of everything. It's our reason for being".

The Natural law originates the creation of matter and its evolution, balance, preservation and harmony of everything.

It is our reason for being.

6. How to achieve Peace

How/when do I choose Peace?

What can I do?

Everyday...

Practical Recommendations

Peace with myself and others

- Every morning I give myself a smile
- Every morning I give a smile to the first person I see
- I never act when I'm angry
- I know simple anti-stress techniques, easy to do as: breathe deep, drink water, exercise daily, sing ...
- I say 'thank you' and 'please', looking at the person's eyes (when the culture allows it)
- I salute my colleagues with mood.

Peace in my family

- I enter my house in a good temper (i.e. I leave outside the fatigue and the stress of the day)
- The first thing I do is to embrace my wife or husband, children, members of the family and all those present
- I also salute my pets with love
- At home, the voice never rises; the voice is always friendly
- I install the Culture of "Zero Violence" at home as the norm.

Peace at schools

For teachers

- I welcome each of my students, one by one.
- We practice and teach non-violent communication (empathic communication).
- We do activities about: positive affirmations, respect, cooperation, listening, friendliness, courtesy, etc.
- In the corridors and at the entrance of the school, we place images of peace, solidarity and multiculturalism
- We organize activities and cooperative games (i.e. non-competitive games)

For managers

- We organize a friendly physical environment that encourages Peace
- We provide good lighting
- "We demolish the walls", everything is seen, and everything is transparent. Please see the proposal of the architect Prakash Nair, <http://www.fieldingnair.com>

PEACE 3000

- We organize a collective preparation for everyone: teachers, staff, parents and students, in such a way that all the college knows that Peace and non-violence is the norm. Includes: physical and psycho-emotional preparation, personal development for everyone, ethics, values, awareness, etc.
- We establish the 'rule' of cooperative games and studies, the Non-violent Communication, the habit of being positive and self-esteem.
- Regularly we make a "practical campaign" with a particular value (not only theoretical, so this value can be deeply integrated), which in turn becomes the "standard".
- We provide the inspiration of the Peace leaders at disposal of the school's collective: movie about Peace leaders, members of the families, grandparents' day...

For everyone

- We do campaigns I can choose... I choose Peace, and establish that Peace is the norm, at all times, with the whole world, in all places and all circumstances

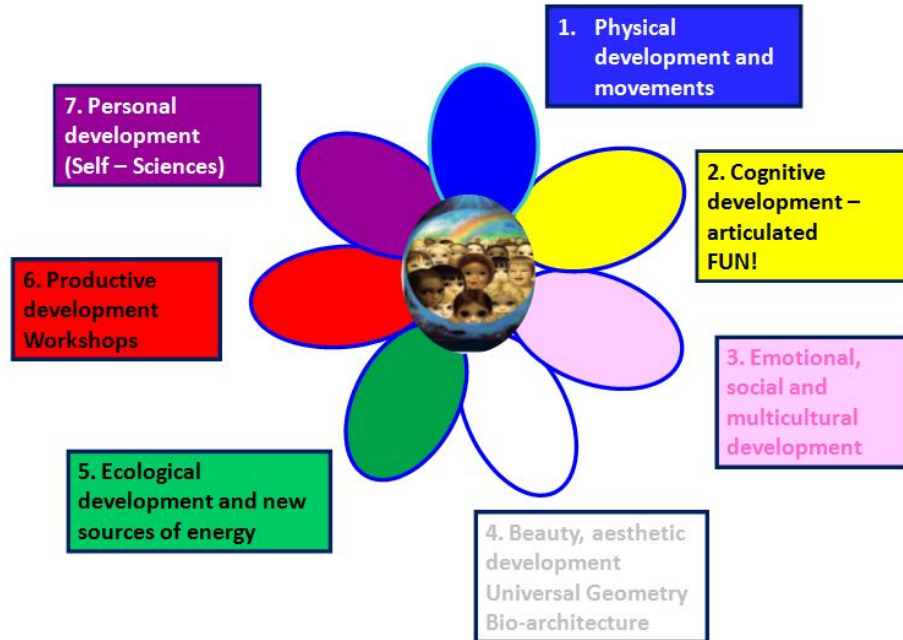

In such a way that we stop the cycles of violence and its "escalation".

Thus we co-create together – truly – a lasting Culture of Peace on Earth.

I have the strength and wisdom to stop cycles of violence, and its "escalation".
I have the power of co-creating a lasting Culture of Peace on Earth.
I can choose... I choose Peace!

7. An Integral Preventive Education: The 7 Petals School

The 7 Petals School

Picture: The 7 Petals School and its 7 teaching areas

Culture of Peace is not only technical resolutions of conflict, it's all a preventive process, deep, real, authentic, of rise in consciousness, and it's achieved through an Integral Preventive Education. Pedagogy 3000 proposes a system of 7 areas of integral development of the human being, called the 7 Petals.

The 7 Petals Schools consists of intertwined harmoniously and systematically the following areas:

1. Physical development and movements (Blue Petal)
2. Cognitive development, articulated, and contextualized, and FUN. If it's not fun, it's not sustainable (Yellow Petal)
3. Emotional, social and multicultural development (Rose Petal)
4. Artistic development and creativity
5. Ecological development and new sources of energy (Green Petal)
6. Productive development and workshops. Applied sciences (Red Petal)
7. Personal development or self-development sciences (Self-Sciences) (Violet Petal)

The report stipulates that we must aim at a common welfare around the world, through:

1. Sustainable development, as an essential concern
2. Reaffirming a humanist vision in education to transform the educational view
3. Opening of the public policy
4. Considering education as a global right: learn to be as a cornerstone for a more humane, peaceful and sustainable world.
