Book review

The Boys and Girls of Today and Tomorrow.

Scientific contributions on physiological, neurological and psycho-emotional changes in the children of today and the education they need.

Did you know that babies and children have new and different attitudes to previous generations?
Why?

What are physiological, neurological and psycho-emotional changes in the children now?

What so valuable would the new educational have as tools suitable for your children or your students?

What health system do they need? What education?

Are there any solutions for the diagnosis of attention-Deficit, hyperactivity, learning disorders, General disorders?

What is the line between reality and the myth of the current disorders?

Who is suffering, children or the educational system?

Would you like to hear the opinion of doctors, psychologists and scientists specialized in the new pediatrics and forms of integral education?

That, with this book, to open new possibilities and horizons of hope for health and education. This work carried out by distinguished experts from eight different countries, is proof that since solidarity, entrepreneurship and constructive, create a new reality and a higher life and holistic, quality is not only a possibility, but a reality that we touch the daily.

This book can teach you strategies and ideas for the work to which we are all invited.

The children of today and tomorrow: the future is in our hands

This book will help them both in the field of health as a school, which is at home or in schools. We also hope that it is useful to the ministries of health and education as well as various institutions in charge of national and international decision-making.

What are the purposes of the book?

- Know what are the reasons for these changes or behaviors and better understanding of the physiological, neurological and psycho-emotional aspects of this new childhood and youth.
- Share the opinion of doctors and health and education professionals in order to provide up-to-date information and experiences that will facilitate understanding the changes.
- Give concrete suggestions and solutions both in the field of health, psychology and medicine.
- Create a global scientific network seeking co - create a new system of health and education to give appropriate responses to today's planetary changes.
